BOAT CLUB PLAY

At the meeting held Tuesday evening, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium the cast for "Oh, Oh, Cindy" was partially selected and tonight at 8 o'clock all who will assist in making this play the success that "Katchy-Koo" was are urged to be present to get rehearsals under way as quickly as possible. A synopsis of the play is as follows:

Cinderella Van Alstyne of the "Ziegfield Follies" show becomes tired of her surroundings of the theatre life, and desires to try the life of Robinson Crusoe for a time to learn his secret of contentment. Through the sorcery of the Fairy Godmother, who is Patrick O'Hooligan, stage director of the show in disguise, her wish comes true, and she finds herself and the members of the company on the island.

Immediately business begins to pick up and the cannibals prepare for a great barbecue, selecting for their choice morsel Santa Claus, the quondam promoter of the show. Crusoe comes to the front and reveals that his life as a castaway has not been entirely without interest. But he isn't at all contented. Neither are Friday or Saturday, who are rivals for the affections of Miss Lily, the cannibal queen. Finally all decide that contentment is not to be found on the island, and they fly by aeroplane to the Land of Hearts Desire.

On the Land of Heart's Desire new troubles reveal themselves. Cindy becomes angry because it is unnecessary for her to go down town and do her shopping; and Friday protests because he is not given a chance to reveal his artistry of the bass drum. There is no telling what will happen, but at this juncture someone smashes the magical apparatus and the spell is broken.

Cindy awakens in her dressing room at the theatre; the evening performance of the "Follies" begins, and everything ends happily.

The lines in the play are clever and excruciatingly funny throughout the entire libretto. All of the songs are excellent and appropriate. Among the songs are "Oh, Miss White"; "I'm the One"; "Come Along to the Movies"; "Oh, What a Bump"; "In Our Aeroplane"; "Quack! Says the Duck"; "I Want a Chance to Beat that Drum"; "You're All the World to Me"; and the musical finale. "Songs of Yesterday and Today."

Many clever and beautiful dance numbers are introduced throughout the show. Fairies, flowers, nymphs, fire-flies, gnomes, cannibals, show girls, chorus girls, harlequins and others appear in the various numbers. Artistic and elaborate costumes and scenic settings aid in producing this elaborate causerie. Other attractive features which will appear in the production are the Ballet and Starlight groups.

DANCE LAST NIGHT

The dance held last night in the auditorium of the Elk's Home was a most successful and enjoyable affair. The music was by McWilliam's orchestra, and during the evening refreshments were served. There were about fifty young couples on the floor and dancing was kept up until one o'clock.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Messrs Laurence G. Fawcett, Albert V. Bryan, C. Bruce Morton and Robert Bitzer.

The chaperones present were Mrs. Edward Stabler Fawcett, Mrs. John M. Johnson, Mrs. George R. Hill, Mrs. James Sidney Douglas, Mrs. Albert D. Brockett, Mrs. William J. Boothe and Mrs. Charles M. Shepperson.

24 KILLED 200 HURT AS BOMB WRECKS

Offices of J. P. Morgan and Co., Bankers, Are Wrecked

POLICE BLAME BOMB

Two Theories Held—Conspiracy is Blamed—Injured Crowd Hospitals Stock Exchange Closed

New York, Sept. 16.—A mighty explosion, believed by the police to have been caused either by a time bomb of terrific power or careless handling of high explosives, wrecked the magnificent offices of J. P. Morgan and Co., foremost international banking company of the world, exactly at noon today.

Thirty minutes after the explosion the police announced that seventeen were known to be dead and more than 200 injured, but later it was estimated by the police that at least twenty-four were dead.

Two theories were held by the authorities. One was that anarchists attempted to wipe out the Morgan firm and assassinate J. P. Morgan by planting a time bomb in a wagon in front of the Broad street entrance to the firm. Another was that a Ford automobile, license No. 24.246, New Jersey, loaded with explosives, chashed into another automobile at Broad and Wall streets.

Members of the bomb squad of the police department expressed the belief that the explosion was caused by a bomb. They say they have found dozens of iron slugs ranging from one to four inches in length, along Wall street. They believe that these slugs were parts of the bomb.

There were two vehicles on the Wall street side in front of Morgan's bank that were caught in the explosion. One was a horse-drawn vehicle, which was annihilated, and the other was a small touring car, which immediately burst into flames.

The police do not know which one of these two vehicles carried the explosives which they say may have been in the form of a bomb or may have been a high explosive for use in excavating work on some building construction in the vicinity of the Morgan bank.

More than forty persons have so far been brought to the volunteer hospital. Several of them seem to be in a dying condition.

The force of the explosion is indicated by the fact that Brooklyn bridge was seriously shaken.

The blast caused a panic throughout the financial district. The New York Stock Exchange and the Curb market were both closed.

All the members of the Morgan firm escaped, but Junius Spencer Morgan,

POLICE INSPECTED

Sixteen Men Line up—Mayor Addresses Officers

The semi annual inspection of the police force took place at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon at police headquarters and was made by Mayor James M. Duncan and the members of the board of police commissioners. Fourteen privates and Chief Goods and Sergeant Wilkinson were present Mayor Duncan said he hoped all of the men were familiar with the rules governing the workings of the force and he hoped all would carry out the law.

Chief Goods responded and gave assurances that the police department would use its best efforts to make the mayor's administration a success.

The sidearms of the police were inspected by Commissioner J. T. Sweeney.

SEES DIVORCE CAUSE IN DELICATESSEN STORES

Washington, Sept. 16.—If fewer wives depended upon the "corner delicatessen store," there would be fewer broken homes in this country, Miss Agnes V. Mahoney, of the Industrial Survey and Research Bureau, of Washington, declared in an address today before the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

"It is a well-known fact," Miss Mahoney said, "that a better knowledge on the part of housekeepers of the value and importance of cleanliness and order would go far in lessening many of the causes that are responsible for broken homes. If wives would take the trouble of preparing wholesome and appetizing meals for their husbands there would be a great many more happy homes."

Immoral and uncensored motion pictures were attacked as one of the principal causes of juvenile dlinquency by Miss Teresa R. Donohue, president of the League of Catholic Women of New York city.

To Urge More Pay

Police Commissioners Discuss Salary of Policemen

Mayor Duncan and the members of the board of police commissioners will urge upon city council the necessity for an increase in the pay of the members of the police force.

The question was discussed by the commissioners at a meeting held last night in the mayor's office following the transaction of a small amount of routine business.

Council also will be urged to purchase for the use of the police force two motorcycles, one of the present machines to be exchanged in part payment for a new one.

Chief Goods submitted his monthly report showing that 158 arrests were made during the past month. Heading the list for infractions was unlawful gambling, a total of 24 being charged with this offense. Next came assault and battery with 17 and disorderly on the street with 16 was third on the list.

Mayor Duncan stated that charges for alleged violations of the rules had been preferred in writing by citizens against three policemen and it was decided to hear all three cases next Wednesday night at 7:45 o'clock at the mayor's office.

The mayor also stated that all persons having complaints against any member of the force must make them in writing.

The present salary of the privates on the force is $100 a month. The commissioners some time ago asked for an increase of $10 for the privates $15 for the sergeants and $25 for the chief.

ANOTHER SLASH MADE IN NEW YORK SUGAR PRICES

New York, Sept. 16—Another break in the sugar market occurred today when the Federal Sugar Refining Company dropped its list price for fine granulated to 14 1-2c, meeting the price at which "second hand" granulated have been selling for some time past. While other refiners maintained their list price of 15c, it is known that at least one of them was accepting orders at the 14 1-2c basis.

WALTER SUTHERLAND SHOT AND KILLED

Body Found in Quantico Creek Weighed Down With Iron

TWO BULLET WOUNDS

Police Asked to Arrest Man Said to be Geo. Hockman Who Lived Near Where Body Was Found

The authorities of Prince William county, Va., today are endeavoring to apprehend a man said to be named George Hockman, of that county, in connection with the murder of Walter Sutherland, thirty-two years old, unmarried, whose body was found yesterday in Quantico Creek near Cherry Hill, Prince William county, twenty-eight miles south of Alexandria.

The body it is stated had two bullet holes in it, one being in the neck and the other in the head. It was weighted down with a piece of railroad iron and found by Edward Sutherland, brother of the dead man.

Edward Sutherland reported the affair to the Alexandria police and today Dennis Calvert, Grover C. Sutherland, 635 H. street, southwest Washington and J. S. Calvert, 643 F street, southwest, Washington, made a report of the murder to Chief Goods Dennis Calvert offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of the party guilty of the murder.

What caused the murder is a problem as far as the police are concerned. It is stated that the murder occurred last Sunday morning. Hockman had a houseboat anchored at a point near where the body was found it is stated.

The report made by Edward Sutherland to the police is to the effect that Hockman came to Quantico Sunday morning and reported that Walter Sutherland had been killed and that his body was anchored at the point near where it subsequently was found.

Owing to the fact that he frequently absented himself from his home no attention was paid to the report. When Hockman, who has a houseboat in the creek, started to move it away by means of a launch yesterday an investigation was begun which resulted in the finding of the body.

A coroner's jury summoned by the Prince William county authorities today is holding an inquest over the body of the deceased.

The police today received a telegram from Quantico signed "W. E. Lloyd," asking that Hockman be arrested. Iwas stated he was traveling in a house boat or by rail.

The man wanted is described in the telegram as weighing about 220 pounds, forty-five years old, two fingers missing from one hand and a fisherman. Sutherland lived at Dumfries, Prince William county, Va., with his brother and two sisters.

Reports received by the police this afternoon are to the effect that Hockman was last seen early this morning in a row boat coming this way. The authorities of Prince William county are watching in search of the fugitive.

It also was reported to the police that the house boat of Hockman had been burned and the remains of a still found aboard the boat.

FOUR REASONS

There are four reasons why every man, woman and child of Alexandria should visit the Richmond theatre either Friday or Saturday.

1—The feature is "45 Minutes from Broadway."

2—It is the most famous play ever staged by Geo. M. Cohan.

3—Charles Ray, one of the screen's most versatile stars plays the lead.

4—It is a First National attraction and is of guaranteed worth.

Vote On Good Roads

Constitutional Amendment Will be Acted on in Presidential Election

The Alexandria Chamber of Commerce calls attention to the fact that at the coming election, November 2, 1920, in addition to voting for your presidential candidate you will be called upon to vote for the constitutional amendment for good roads this prospsed amendment is to enable the legislature and governor of this state to use the credit of the state for highway construction. This is Virginia's opportunity to secure an adequate system of improved roads properly maintained, and every qualified voter should vote "yes" on this question. By so doing you say to your legislature that you want Virginia to be in a position to meet Federal Aid, dollar for dollar, in whatever increased appropriations Congress may see fit to make and that you want a system of state highways reaching every section of the state constructed as rapidly as they can be economically and efficiently built.

There are many benefits to be derived from the construction of a state highway system, it will open up the various sections of the state to visitors of other states, who are prospective investors and residents. These visitors will gladly come at their own expense, bringing in millions of dollars annually of new money. The lure of the varied attractions of an agricultural, industrial and commercial nature which Virginia has to offer in addition to history, scenery and climate will bring many new residents to Virginia and will result in smaller farms being more intensively cultivated, all adding to the wealth and prosperity of the state. There is no section of the state that will benefit more from good roads than Alexandria, who being rich not only in places of historical interest, but also in places of industrial supremacy will make it a mecca to be sought by people from all over the United States.

THOMPSON LEADS CHICAGO PRIMARY

One Man is Killed and Score Injured in Election Clashes

DOWN STATE LOWDEN

Democrats Name J. H. Lewis For Governor—Other Races Close—Organization Win in New York

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Tickets headed by Len Small, of Kankakee, for Governor, and Congressman Frank Smith of Aledo, for United States Senator, and which had the support of Mayor William Hale Thompson were leading for the Republican nominations in today's Illinois primaries in the early returns.

Cook county, in early returns, gave the Thompson faction ticket a large majority over that headed by Lieutenant-Governor Oglesby for Governor and William B. McKinley for Senator supported by Governor Lowden, but down State Oglesby had a lead in scattering precincts.

Returns from 664 precincts out of 5,737, including 234 outside Cook County give Oglesby 29,906 and Small 43,569.

Returns from 639 precincts, including 209 outside Cook county, give McKinley 27,836 and Smith 40,891.

On the Democratic side, former Senator James Hamilton Lewis led his opponent for the Gubernatorial nomination, Barratt O'Hara, by about 5 to 1 in early returns. Two close races developed, however. Maclay Hoyne, seeking a third term as State's Attorney for Cook county, was running behind Michael L. Igoe. Robert E. Burke, of Chicago and Peter A. Paller, of Kewanee, were within a few votes of each other in returns from 310 precincts, including 10 outside Cook county, for the Democratic nomination for Senator.

Although one man was killed, half a dozen kidnapped and a score injured in fights around Cook county polling places, election officials last night declared that the election had been "comparatively quiet" and that disorders had not been so great as they had feared.

Charges that the assailants in most cases were Thompson adherents, brought statements from Mayor's faction that many of the 2,000 special deputies sworn in by Sheriff Peters, a Lowden adherent, were ex-convicts and that they had started most of the fights. Sheriff Peters said that a few "disreputable characters" might have been included among his deputies but that they were discharged as soon as discovered.

Politeness Cost $196

When Edward Brice Starts to Write Note for Strange Negro the Latter Grabs His Purse and Escapes

An effort to be accommodating yesterday afternoon cost Edward Brice, colored, who lives at 433 South Columbus street, $196. It happened this way. Brice was walking along Princess street between Alfred and Patrick streets, when he was accosted by a colored man, a stranger to him, who asked him if he would write a note for him. Brice obligingly consented and put his hand in his coat pocket to procure a pencil and incidentally pulled out his pocketbook which showed a wad of greenbacks. The stranger forgot about the note he wanted written and grabbed Brice's pocketbook and ran off.

Brice had just withdrawn the money from the bank to make the initial payment on a house he had purchased. A report of the robbery has been made to the police.

AMERICA'S MURDERERS.

A man—or a woman or a child—every half hour every day of the year is the American automobile mortality record the National Safety Council discovers by keeping tab upon casualties.

In this country more persons are murdered and fewer persons are convicted of murder than in any other civilized country. The grand total of the deliberately murdered sometimes passes 10,000 in a year, but the grand total of those killed by automobiles bids fair soon to be twice as great as the number of persons murdered deliberately.

Everyone who has read homicide statistics knows that the major reason for the lightness with which human life is taken in this country in quarrels, for revenge, in commission of robbery under the unwritten law, is that few murderers are convicted. By next year, the automobile industry continuing its growth, the number of Americans murdered by means of pistols, guns, knives, blunt instruments and motor vehicles may pass 30,000.

There is no reason why killings should decrease when juries continue to look leniently upon killers irrespective of whether the killing is done from the dark by a midnight assassin or in a blaze of electric light and by a midnight joyrider or in the glare of sunlight at high noon by the careless truckman or driver of a passenger automobile in a crowded street.

Bolshevist Emissaries in England.

The disclosure which has been made of the pernicious activities of the Bolshevist emissaries whose residence in England the Premir's complaisance has permitted affords no occasion for an intelligent surprise. One can only wonder at the extent of the confidence which they have been convicted of abusing. Mr. Lloyd George did indeed put up the bars against Litvinoff, who had been detected in the conduct of a Bolshevist propaganda, and had been expelled from the country for that reason, but seemingly from a desire to propitiate the trade union element, whose pro-Bolshevist sympathies have been so clamorously and even seditiously expressed. He did consent to receive and to confer with Krassin and subsequently with Kamenov, both of whom it now transpires, have been engaged in negotiations with the British revolutionists.

It may be supposed that he is today inclined to regret his mistaken tolerance. Krassin and Kamenov have been exposed to dangerous mischief-makers to whose malignant influence much of the prevailing perturbation is attributable. It turns out that Kamenov was in communication with the "Council of Action," which undertook to coerce the government at the time of the Polish crisis by the threat of a universal strike, and that, when it was a question whether he and his associate should be sent home, he proposed to defy the order and to place himself under the protection of the "Council of Action" as constituting the real government of Great Britain.

It has also been ascertained that the subsidy paid to the London Daily Herald for its advocacy of revolution was furnished through his instrumentality. Under these circumstances the course of the government was clear. It could do nothing else than order Mr. Kamenov to get out, and the situation has been that much bettered by his exit, but strange to say Mr. Krassin has been allowed to remain, and apparently the conversations with him are to continue. After a while and probably very seen Mr. Lloyd George will get to realize the danger of paltering with this Bolshevist peril and, ceasing his efforts at prohibition, will resort to the vigorous measures which the emergency demands.

PARKER—GRAY SCHOOL.

The public schools of this city opened for registration of colored pupils September 10, and now we are in working order.

Some of the people have awakened to the fact of sending their children to school. They are coming in large numbers, and yet there are many hanging around the corners and near the school who should be in school or at some profitable employment.

Parents, wake up and send your children to school. They will bless you in the future for so doing. The time is at hand, yes, now, for everyone to obtain the best possible education. Talk to your children and tell them to be respectful in school and on the streets, tell them to go through the streets in an orderly manner. The teachers are doing all that they can in that direction, and they need your assistance.

There is too much insubordination in and out of school and too little regard for the rights of others.

Talk to your children and see that they grow up good moral men and women. It will make them better citizens.

The chairs for the lower floor of the auditorium are in the school. There are many other things to be done by the association and we need little more than $325 to do what we contemplate.

We heartily thank those who have so nobly contributed and hope that those who have not given anything yet will do so at their earliest convenience.

This is one of the most worthy causes ever attempted in our city.

Come to our assistance, will you not?

son of J. P. Morgan was badly cut on the hands by flying glass.

The Morgan offices were completely shattered. Pedestriaans in the streets were hurled from their feet.

There was intense confusion and thirty minutes after the explosion the cause of the blast was still unknown. In the meantime Wall street was filled with sensational rumors of every description. The death list was put as high as sixty by some rumors.

The police learned that a horse and wagon were in front of the building when the explosion occurred. The horse was killed and the wagon was down to kindling wood. One theory of the police was that a time bomb had been placed in the wagon to go off at noon, the most likely hour of the day when Mr. Morgan would be in his office. This theory received support from the fact that the bomb exploded exactly at 12 o'clock.

Another theory was that a small motor car, filled with high explosives, collided with another automobile in the street immediately in front of the Morgan offices. The police were certain that the explosion was outside of the offices and not inside.

The Ford car was said to have borne a New Jersey license plate. According to the police version the automobile was crossing the street diagonally at Broad and Wall when another machine crashed into it.

So terrific was the force of the explosion that the police were certain it had been caused by dynamite or T. N. T. and possibly a mixture of both.

It was definitely established by a close examination of the building that the explosion occurred on the Wall street side and not the Broad street side, as had originally been believed.

Officials of the fire department who rushed to the scene with the police said that the blast might have been caused by an underground channel of compressed air from excavations in the neighborhood, but this theory was subsequently discarded.

So devastating was the force of the explosion that the dome over the entrance to Morgan & Co., supported by gigantic columns of solid granite crumbled and crashed to the ground.

United States troops were rushed to the scene of the explosion to guard the United States sub-treasury, which is just across the street from J. P. Morgan & Co. Two wagon loads of infantrymen were brought to Manhattan from Governor's Island.

A former high official of New York's police department who refused to be quoted, at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, after an investigation at the scene of the explosion, declared that it was the result of a conspiracy.

"The explosion was caused by a time bomb in a wagon load of nitroglycerine set to go off at exactly 12 o'clock," he declared, "This wagon load of explosive was purposely set off directly in front of the Morgan offices."

According to a clerk in the Morgan offices at the time of the explosion, three men and one girl employe of the Morgan house were killed. A number of the employes of the Equitable Trust Company were injured and have been taken to the Broad Street Hospital.

Dr. Savage, of the Broad Street Hospital makes the statement that in the neighborhood of 200 persons injured in the explosion have been received at the hospital. He said that practically every available inch of space in the institution is now occupied by the wounded.

The police now also estimate the number of injured at 200. A call has been made for assistance from other hospitals and Wall street is now the scene of rushing automobile ambulances.

Volunteer doctors and nurses began coming into the street in large numbers to care for the wounded, and private automobiles were commandeered by the police and by soldiers from Governor's Island to carry the wounded to hospitals.

Father Henry, of State street, administered last rites to six of the dying at the Broad Street Hospital.

Atlantic City, Sept. 16.—American people are eating less meat. During the last year the consumption per capita was decreased by eight pounds, according to Dr. John A. Hohler, head of the Animal Industry Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, in an address at the convention of the Institute of American Meat Packers at their closing session at the Hotel Traymore yesterday.

HELL FIRING LONDON TO FLAMING DEBATES

London, Sept. 16.—The question of the existence of a "hell" has become a live topic of discussion here, coincident with the New England Unitarians' anti-hell campaign.

Newspapers are running forums and ministers are preaching on a "If hell really exists or is a condition of mind."

"The popular notion of a hell of rearing flames and endless torment has proved for recent generations the crumbling point of the whole system of Christian theology," says the Rev. W. E. Orchard, a prominent London minister.

"To man's mind such an idea is revolting. It looks as if the human society was preparing a terrible hell for the future with the strifes and anarchies it is genrating. If thre's no hell in the other world it is conceivable enough there is one here.

"Despite the curious outimism of the modern mind, hell is much easier to conceive socially and psychologically than is heaven."

INDICTED FOR OIL FRAUD

Officers of Pennsylvania-Kentucky Oil Corporation Accused

New York, Sept. 16.—Conspiracy to defraud oil stock investors of $120,000 is charged against one corporation and nine individuals in a Federal indictment returned last August and unsealed here today.

Defendants named in the indictment are the Pennsylvania-Kentucky Oil and Gasoline Refining Corporation, L. M. Stephens, J. M. Du Bois, C. M. Watson, A. E. Kenney, Frank Hicks, James L. Holland, Frederick W. Rogers, Edward Gerard and M. E. Tallman.

American-Owned Electric Plant At Milan Seized by Workers

New York, Sept. 16.—The Western Electric Company made this announcement today.

"American investors in Italian manufacturing companies are considerably interested in the news received today that the Italian revolutionists have seized the works of the Western Electric Italiana at Milan. This concern, which manufactures a large portion of the telephone and telegraph apparatus used by the Italian Government, is incorporated under the laws of Italy, but all of its stock is owned by the International Western Electric Company of New York. It has always been supervised by American representatives of the New York stockholders and uses many of the processes of manufacture that have been developed here for manufacturing American transmission equipment

"The Milan factory of the Western Electric Italiana was opened in 1909 It employs more than 400 Milanese. E. C. Richardson, its American manager, is at present in New York for one of his conferences with the executives of the International Western Electric Company."

Babe Ruth Loses His Suit To Enjoin Use Of Pictures.

New York, Sept. 16.—Supreme Court Justice Guy this afternoon denied the application of Babe Ruth for an injunction restraining the Educational Films Corporation from manufacturing, speculating or displaying films entitled "Babe Ruth; How He Makes His Home Runs" and "Over the Fence."

Ruth sought the injunction in connection with a suit for $1,000,000 damages which he has brought under the Civil Rights law.

Justice Guy holds that as the Civil Rights law prohibits the use of the name or picture of a living person for advertising purposes or purposes of trade without his written consent, the suit would seem to be well grounded save for judicial ruling to the contrary.

Such judicial ruling, however, he finds in the case of Grace Humiston against the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, wherein the Appellate Division justified the use of a motion picture of the plaintiff as a matter of current news.

INCOME TAX FORMS O. K.

Washington, Sept. 16.—Few important changes in the forms for filing income tax returns will be necessary, the Bureau of Intrnal Revenue announced tonight after a conference between representatives of various business organizations and a committee on the proposed revision of income tax forms for 1920 appointed by Commissioner Williams.

No radical changes are being considered by the committee the bureau stated, and such suggestions as the business men have to offer are of minor character. C. B. Hurrey, chairman of the bureau's committee, announced that briefs containing suggestions for the revision of forms will be received until October 1.

SAFETY FIRST ALWAYS!

Whether Walking or Driving

Cooperate With Others. They Have an Equal Right With You. Respect that Right as you Expect them to Respect Yours

Owners and Operators of Automobiles

Respect the rights of others. Remember that pedestrians have as much right as you. Always exercise care in passing crossings and street cars.

Users of the Sidewalks

REMEMBER

Pedestrians should give equal rights to others.

Stop, Look and Think "Safety" before you cross a congested street, or pass behind a street car, automobile or wagon. Always see what is on the other side of the object that you are passing.

Cross Streets always on the crosswalks. Go slow, look for an opening in the passing wagons and autos, then go quickly.

Don't start to go across the road until you know that it is safe, then keep going. Don't turn back.

Never rush across the road ahead of a car, auto or wagon. Take time, for perhaps an auto or wagon may be coming on the other side.

Look out for speeders and joy-riders. The fact that they may be violating the law will not make an injury any easier to bear.

Look both ways when crossing street. 'Tis the only safe way.

Being Sure Means Safety

Users of the Roadways

REMEMBER

Operators of trucks and motor cars should use great care in driving, especially so in congested districts and in the vicinity of schools.

Don't crowd pedestrians into a place of danger, with your motor car, truck or other vehicle.

Driving in street car tracks is dangerous and should be avoided.

Look out for Street Cars when crossing the tracks.

When you drive behind a street car, always look out for the other car as well as for any other vehicle.

When passing a street car never do so by going on the left of it.

Before crossing railroad tracks use caution and know for a certainty that the way is clear.

Never pass a street car when passengers are being taken on or off.

All Users of the Streets---REMEMBER

The aged and the child. Give all concession to them that you can. Proceed in every way to make their passage as safe as possible. Keep in mind that you were a child once and that you will probably reach an advanced age yourself.

Face Forward, Please

Passengers alighting from street cars should never do so backward. Face the way the car is going for Safety.

Nail Down the Nails

Don't Leave Exposed Nails lying around in boards boxes. Last year 3,462 persons were injured in this manner in Massachusetts alone.

LOOK
Out for all
Danger Signals

and give due heed to them, that your progress may be made safer. Too much caution can't be used.

NEVER Walk around Lowered Gates

and do not crawl under them either. When the way is clear the crossing tender will raise them.

THINK

and caution, and you can go safely and without fear of personal injury overtaking you.

FOREIGN WAR VETERANS DEMAND JAP EXCLUSION

Washington, Sept. 16.—Exclusion of all Japanese immigrants was urged today in a resolution adopted unanimously by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, holding their annual encampment here. Abrogation of the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan, and amendment of the Federal Constitution so as to make children born in this country eligible for citizenship only if both parents were eligible were also favored.

The resolution, introduced by Commander J. W. Jones, Portland, Oregon declared the Japanese immigration question was of national scope and not confined to the Pacific coast.

"The Japanese question is a source of acute and constantly increasing irritation," said the preamble, "and in time this irritation cannot fail to end in grave international friction unless vigorous steps are taken to allay it. We acknowledge and respect the virtues of thrift and industry which characterize the Japanese race, but if the Japanese are not assimilable, those virtues, instead of being a contribution to our national character, are a weapon."

ARNSTEIN HAS CLOSE SHAVE FROM PRISON

New York, Sept. 16.—The shadow of imprisonment loomed forbidding for Jules W. (Nickey) Arnstein here yesterday after Federal Judge Manton had ordered the once reputed "master mind" of wall street bond theft plots into custody for contempt of court.

Arnstein's counsel, however, came to the rescue, and after two and a half hours of pleading succeeded in having his client paroled in his custody until today, when Judge Manton will hear arguments on an application for a write of habeas corpus.

President Has Been Waiting For Invitation From Governor Cox Before Getting Into Contest, It Is Said

Washington, Sept. 16.—President Wilson, it is indicated in Administration quarters, probably will begin in the near future to take a more active part in the campaign. This prediction, it was explained, is based on the report that George White, chairman of the national committee, will appeal in the name of Governor Cox to the President to that end.

It is stated in Administration quarters that the President has stood ready from the date of his interview with Governor Cox at the White House early last month to take whatever part in the campaign that was desired of him, within the limitations fixed upon him, of course, by his illness. At the same time, however, the President has felt that as this was Governor Cox's campaign, it was for the latter to indicate what he desired in the way of help, and that it would be out of place for the White House to take the initiative in these matters.

Up to this time, however, the candidate has refrained from making any request for his services. Consequently the President has kept studiously in the background, leaving the nominee free to make his own campaign as he saw fit. Apparently, however, the result of the Maine elections has so shaken the confidence of the Democratic management that Governor Cox now is willing to avail himself of the President's offer.

It is understood that if the request is made the President probably will confine his activities to a series of written statements, presenting his arguments in behalf of the Democratic position on the League of Nations controversy and indorsing the record of Governor Cox.

Inasmuch as Mr. Cox has taken practically the identical position of the President on the League issue, it is pointed out that Mr. Wilson's participation in the campaign at this stage could not serve to embarrass the candidate and might aid him considerably.

At one time it was thought possible that the President might be able to make one, and perhaps two, public speeches during the campaign, but it is now regarded as doubtful if his doctors would permit him to exert himself to that extent.

Society Writer Jumps Into Central Park Lake

New York, Sept. 16.—Mrs. J. Proctor Fowle, who writes under the pen name of Isabelle Proctor Miller and who had been confined in a sanatorium for nervous breakdown for the last month, attempted suicide today by jumping into Swan Lake, in Central Park, after she had torn up her marriage license in an attempt to destroy means of identification.

Policeman Martin Gill dived in after her and was nearly drowned, but succeeded in saving the woman's life after a struggle. He was taken to his home after reporting ill.

Mrs. Proctor had been employed by the Thompson Feature News Service at 45 West Sixteenth street, where she wrote feature articles, particularly on social doings.

KUEHLING FREE JURY DECIDES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 16.—Roy Harper Kuehling, husband of Mrs. Gertrude Vigor Kuehling, who met her death in the waters of the Potomac last Wednesday under circumstances which the police believe both mysterious and suspicious, was exonerated of all responsibility in connection with his wife's death by the grand jury yesterday after a five hour period of investigation.

Immediately afterward Assistant District Attorney James B. Archer, who presented the case, telephoned Major Gessford, superintendent of police, of the result of the invstigation and authorized Kuehling's release from custody.

killed, was shot by a policeman who said Fennessy drew a gun. Two women were bruised badly when they attempted to help Sergt. John Coyne quell a disturbance in one polling place over charges of "repeating" in the voting. Coyne was seriously injured and the women knocked to the floor.

Several unsuccessful attempts to steal ballot boxes were made and two precinct captains were included among the men kidnapped, in each case by gangs in automobiles.

New York, Sept. 16.—Delayed returns from the New York State primary held yesterday, tabulated last night, gave increased majorities to Republican and Democratic organization candidates in all State-wide contests.

With but 752 districts missing, Nathan L. Miller, of Syracuse, who received the indorsement of the unofficial Republican State convention, had a majority of 118,194 over State Senator George F. Thompson in the contest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Thompson, however, was the unopposed choice for the prohibition nomination for Governor. Gov. Alfred E. Smith was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

In the contest for the Republican nomination for United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., organization designee, had a majority of 120,607 over the combined vote of his two opponents, with 813 districts of the State still missing. He defeated Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the State branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and George Henry Payne, New York city tax commissioner.

With returns from 1,126 districts still to be heard from, Lieut.-Gov. Harry C. Walker had a majority of 58,377 over Mayor George R. Lunn, of Schenectady, in the contest to Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

New Orleans, Sept. 16.—Incomplete returns from both city and country today from yesterday's Statewide Democratic primary indicated that a run-off primary would be necessary to determine the Senatorial nominee.

Indications were that Jared Y. Sanders, of Bogalusa, former Governor and Congressman from the Sixth district, and Edwin S. Broussard, of New Iberia, brother of the late United State Senator Robert Broussard, would finish less than 1,000 votes apart.

Figures which have in past elections been considered official gave Andrew J. McShane a majority of 1,279 over Martin Behrman in the New Orleans Mayoralty election.

Electric Wires Kill Trees

Electric wires which touch trees can easily kill the most beautiful shade tree. This may be due partly to the work of the electric current, or to the wearing through the growing surface of the tree by the wire, which deprives the tree of its sustenance.

Hardwick Loses Contest.

Atlanta, Sept. 16.—The contest by Thomas W. Hardwick of Decatur county's vote in last week's Democratic primary for governor was thrown out yesterday by the Decatur county executive committee, according to a report received by the Atlanta Journal from Bainbridge.

STUDENT'S SLAYER GIVEN LONG TERM

Woodsville, N. H., Sept. 16.—Robert T. Meads, of LaGrange, Ills., Dartmouth College junior, who shot and killed Henry E. Maroney of Bedford, Mass., a fellow student, after a drinking bout in a college dormitory last June, pleaded guilty to manslaughter yesterday. He was sentenced to serve 15 to 20 years at hard labor in the State prison.

Meads' plea and the sentence came unexpectedly. The grand jury's indictment handed in was for murder. Young Meads was taken to the court room from the county jail in the automobile of his father, A. H. Meads, of Chicago, a lawyer, to make the formal answer to the indictment this afternoon. The indictment for murder was read and Meads was asked his plea. Coolly he replied, "I plead guilty of manslaughter."

The killing of Maroney uncovered rum-running operations at Dartmouth College, in which Meads was alleged to be a leader. Maroney went to Meads' room late on the night of June 15 to obtain more whiskey. There was an argument over the price, during which a part of Meads' stock was taken without payment. Later when Maroney entered his own room he found Meads awaiting him and the shooting followed.

PLOUGH HITS 'LIVE' WIRE, KILLS HORSE, HURTS MAN

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 16.—Many and strange have been the discoveries revealed to ploughmen by their shares but the prize will go to David Fisher, of this town, who, while ploughing about the new Tower Hill School to grade the school grounds, unearthed a buried electric light wire.

The wire was heavily charged. It killed Fisher's horse and hurled him several feet away. Passersby, attracted by his outcries, called a passing auto and had the man removed to the hospital. He is now in a serious condition, having been badly burned about the hands and wrists.
